NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Boyless Town.

(Philadelphia Record.)
A cross old woman of long ago declared that she hated noise. "The town would be so pleasant, you know, if only there were no boys," she scolded and fretted about it till her eyes grew heavy as lead. And then—of a sudden the town grew still. For all the boys had fled. For all through the long and dusty street there wasn't a boy in view; the baseball lot where they used to meet was a sight to make one blue; for the grass was growing on every blade. And the paths that the runners made; for there wasn't a soul in the place who knew how the game was played. The dogs they slept the livelong day. Why should they bark or leap? There wasn't a whistle or call to play, and so they could only sleep. And longed for the saddle and rein. And even the birds on the garden wall chirped only a dull refrain. The cherries rotted and went to waste. There were none to climb the tree; and nobody had a single taste. Save only the birds and bees. There wasn't a messenger boy—not one. To speed as such messengers can; if the people wanted their errands done. They sent for a messenger man. There was little, I ween, of frolic and noise. There was less of cheer and mirth; and the old town since it lacked its boys. Was the dearest place on earth. 'Twas then the poor old woman began to weep—And woke with a sudden scream. "Dear me!" she cried, "I have been asleep. And oh! what a horrible dream!"

QUIET.—The political campaign this year seems to be an exceptionally quiet one. It is now less than one month until election day and we have yet to hear the first campaign speech in Springfield. We may have a "warning up" later on, but at the present writing things are exceedingly quiet in the political arena. Senator W. O. Bradley is billed to speak at Lebanon on Friday the 9th for the Republican ticket and he will as usual prove a star attraction. It is the purpose of both sides to have speakers in this county between now and election day, but the announcements have not yet been made. Washington County always close, usually goes Republican in presidential elections. In state and county races the Democrats have carried the county of recent years with the exception of last year, when the county went in favor of the Republican state ticket by a good majority. In view of the fact of it being presidential year and the further fact that of the county voting Republican in the state election last year, a victory for that ticket is confidently predicted again this year.

County Offices. Although the contests are not to come up until next year there is considerable talk as to probable candidates for the various county offices. Two sheriff's tickets for the Democratic nomination are already announced and for the other offices there are a number of prospective candidates for the Democratic nominations. There is a bit of a talk understanding, however, among the candidates and prospective candidates to hold off until after the presidential election, before anything is done in the way of campaigning for any local office.

GETTING BUSY. The directors of the Washington County Tobacco Warehouse Co. are getting busy making arrangements to open operations at what will be the "loose leaf market" of Springfield. Competent men will be engaged to operate the drying plant and to superintend the grading and pricing of the tobacco. The plans for the operation of the warehouse, which have been outlined in previous articles in the News-Leader, are meeting with the approval of all who are at all interested in the matter. The most important point about the matter is that it affords the tobacco grower a good market where he is at perfect liberty to sell or refuse the price offered and is not hampered by being tied up in any pool or otherwise obligated. The growers of Washington County have tried all of the various methods of marketing their tobacco. They have shipped it in hogsheds to Louisville and sold it on the breaks; they have hauled it across the country in the hand to Lexington and to Lebanon; and they have sold it at home to be delivered in the loose leaf at Springfield. All will agree that the last named plan has proven the most satisfactory to the grower. It certainly will prove satisfactory if the price keeps up and there is every indication that his year at least the price will be at that good reasonably be expected, owing to the short crop of Burley tobacco this season. The man who is fortunate enough to have a good crop of tobacco in his barn this year is certainly in a position to do some dictating. We understand that there are already in the field speculators who are endeavoring to purchase tobacco from the farmers, in the barns. It seems to us that it would be the part of wisdom for the tobacco grower to clear clear of the speculator. With the market within easy reach the farmer would certainly stand a better chance to get good prices by marketing his own tobacco. The speculator is bound to buy at figures that will guarantee him a profit, so why can't the farmer make that profit just as well as the speculator. The fellow with a crop of tobacco this year is "hot" but he must watch his corners and make the best of the situation.

REVIVAL.—There has been a decided revival in the demand for Washington County farm lands within the past few weeks and several farms have changed hands at good figures. We believe that the settlement of the tobacco trouble, which was brought about by the establishing of a loose leaf warehouse, has had much to do with the revival of the real estate market. Investors hesitated about purchasing farms, which were especially valuable on account of their fitness for growing tobacco, when it was by no means certain that they would be allowed to grow tobacco without the fear of molestation. Washington county land has a well earned reputation for growing fine Burley tobacco and so long as the farmers are permitted to grow it the price of land will stay up.

RESPASSERS.—Several of our farmer friends have requested the News-Leader to sound a note of warning against those careless individuals who trespass on farms throughout the county and often cause serious damage by carelessly throwing a light match or cigar stub in the dry grass. Persons who are so careless as to be the cause of such a loss should be forbidden access to his neighbor's farm and should be prosecuted for trespass if he violates the order. The long continued drought has caused the grass and other vegetation to become as dry as tinder and a fire started at almost any point may cause a disastrous fire with serious loss to property.

Had A Close Call.
Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss. says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles effected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer, is world wide. Sold at Hayden & Robertson's drug store. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

AWFUL DEED OF NIGHT RIDERS

Assassins Visit Negroes' Home and After Setting Fire to House shoot the Escaping Victims.

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 4.—Fire and steel in the hands of the night riders ended miserably the lives here early this morning of the family of Dave Walker, colored.

Penned in a house blazing and saturated with coal oil, the negroes began creeping forth timidly, and as fast as they could, they were shot down.

Walker came first and a bullet led the blood jet out from his lungs. His wife, carrying an infant came next. One bullet riddled the child, and the other dropped the mother in her tracks, fatally wounded.

A five-year-old child was last to leave, and one of the unending pellets claimed her life before she had toddled three steps.

One son, the eldest of the family, never issued from the house, and the night riders, believing him safely burned, wheeled and left the place.

Walker was charged with having cursed a white woman, and drawn a gun on a white man recently. When the night riders came to his home about midnight to whip him, he fired at them.

They numbered about fifty. Some of them poured coal oil with which they were equipped about the foundation of the cabin while others surrounded the place and waited for the rats to come out of the trap.

Joe Williams, a white man who lived near the place, was pressed into service by the band to hold their horses that they might have more reserves to make their shots sure.

Three other children came from the house after it was almost burned, and these were shot but they would not prove fatal. The wife of the negro will die.

THE NEWS-LEADER

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

E. L. DAVISON, Jr.,

THURSDAY, OCT. 8, 1908.

For Congress

We are authorized to announce that J. H. ROBINSON as a candidate for re-election to Congress from this, the Fourth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic Party.

We are authorized to announce that DAVID W. GADDIE as a candidate on the Republican ticket for Congress from this, the Fourth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Republican Party.

FOR SHERIFF.

We are authorized to announce A. C. KIMBALL as a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of Washington county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Deputies: Richard Shultz, Sam D. Campbell, Will Merritt Sanders and Hubert Virgin.

We are authorized to announce S. J. BARNES as a candidate for Sheriff of Washington county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Deputies: H. R. Edleman, Sam Hale, George Powell and Byron Croake.

That is an unfortunate state of affairs existing at Lexington, over the mysterious disappearance of W. E. Smith, a student at the State University. The fact of the boy having disappeared is of itself unfortunate, and should it turn out that he has come to some violent end, as some alarmists are predicting, the incident would develop into a tragedy deeply to be deplored. The case at its present stage however, presents other unfortunate aspects. There appears to be a disposition on the part of the police department, some citizens and the newspapers of Lexington, to lay the responsibility of Smith's disappearance on the University and its students. In fact the charge has been openly made that the young man was roughly handled or perhaps murdered by his fellow students. The strange part of the affair is that so many people are eagerly accepting such wild reports as truth and condemning the college its faculty and its students for being guilty of a horrible crime without the shadow of proof that anybody other than Smith himself had anything to do with his disappearance.

State University is a state institution of which every Kentuckian should be proud. Its students are young men from the best families of the State. Springfield and Washington county has furnished quite a number of students to the University within the past few years and a Springfield man occupies a chair. We take it that the boys from other points who attend State University are not materially different from our Washington county boys. And yet certain people would have us believe that these boys would murder a fellow student and that the faculty would attempt to shield the act. Such an idea is preposterous. We believe young Smith has simply gone on a "hobnobbing" expedition and that in due season he will turn up.

Would Mortgage the Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire Gap, W. A. Floyd by name says: "Buckley's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw, one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only $2 at Haydon & Robertson's drug store.

Tick Creek

The party that was given by Miss Lucy Hall on Saturday night at this place in honor of Ed Drago and Miss Bland of our town was well attended and enjoyed by all. ## A Banquet spread before you would do you no good if you couldn't eat. What good can food do a child when as soon as it enters it's stomach it is eaten by worms. That's the reason your baby is ailing, cross, pasty faced and thin. Give it White's Cream Vermifuge. It will expel the worms and act as a tonic for the child. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Care of the Hands.

If you wish to keep your hands soft and white keep a jar of almost molasses on the washstand. Outstret and even commitment will do just as well. After washing the hands in soap and warm water rub the molasses on them generously. This will keep the hands wonderfully soft and white. For stains and obstinate spots keep a cake of toilet powder on hand and rub the spots with talc and they will quickly be removed. Dry every part of the hands on a soft towel and then rub in a good cream for the skin.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills. They are small, sure, safe pills. Sold by Red Cross Drug Store.
